

for sale by owner

boats

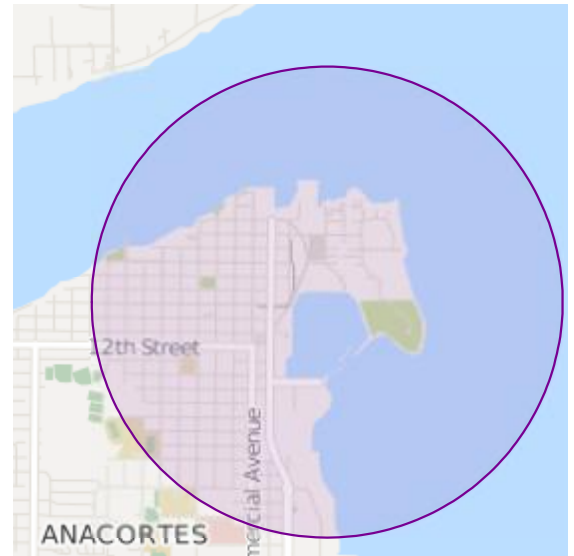

favorite hide flag share

Posted 4 days ago on: 2023-10-20 14:48

Contact Information:

Willard Nomad 30 1974... Rejuvenated, Updated and Loved - $32,500 (Anacortes)

image 1 of 24

boat type: trawler

condition: excellent

engine hours (total): 1250

length overall (LOA): 30

make / manufacturer: Willard

model name / number: Nomad/Vega - Sedan Trawler

propulsion type: power

year manufactured: 1974

Stella B
Willard Nomad/Vega
1974 Sedan Trawler
FriendShip of the Salish Sea
With 8 foot RIB Dinghy
Only $32,500
Absolutely firm on price, Cash Out Only

QR Code Link to This Post

Scammers will be Ignored and Reported
(Will be 39k if we have to list it with our fine local broker)
Purchased for 30k 2 years ago and about $40,000 in Upgrades.

In Cap Santa Marina Anacortes Washington

Marinized 37hp Mitsubishi Engine $\frac{3}{4}$ gallon per hour.
New 9.9 Yamaha Kicker Motor with Remote 10 hours
80 Gallons Fresh Water
100 Gallons Fuel in Freshly Cleaned Tanks
10 Gallon Black Water Tank, Never with a #2 since we've owned her.
Forced Air Kerosene Heater, Plus a Engine Run Heater, and Hot Water
All New Garmin Electronics and Radar
New Fusion Stereo System
New Windlass (for rope rode)
New Dining Table and Pneumatic Pedestal
New Rear Deck Table and Umbrella Set Up
New Fuel Lines (80%)
New Fuel Pump
New Racor Fuel Filter Housing.
New Injectors
New, Super Cool, Stainless Electric Dinghy Crane
New Zincs and Bottom Paint
New Dock Lines
New Flopper Stopper, pole included.
New LED Lights
New Driving Lights
New Upper Deck Stanchions and Lifelines
New Rudder Bearings
New Macerator
Renewed Electric (It was a mess)
Decent Varnish.
Waxed Hull
We worked on her 900 hours in past two years.

Stella B is a beautiful, loved and sound vessel. We have invested nearly $40,000 in repairs and improvements since we bought her in 2021 for 30K. We had dreams for her. We have loved her dearly. We had scads of fun with her throughout the San Juan Islands and North Whidbey of Washington State. Alas, retirement, health and family changes have made us proceed with an early and somewhat painful sale. The loss financially is significant. Though we could sell her for more, we have chosen this current price because we want a short process to let her go.

With that in mind, we intend to sell her to people who will love her and use her for fun. Hopefully someone who is skilled or, eager to learn, mariner. She is older, so there will be issues that arise. So, someone with rudimentary mechanical mindset is a bonus. She is simple mechanically. And salty and easy to travel in. Sturdy and Pretty. Also, we intend to be transparent regarding potential challenges with her. On a daily travel side, she can be a challenge to back up. We use prop walk (to the starboard) to our advantage. On the mechanical side she has been flawless with the exception of three events when air infiltrated the incoming fuel lines and made the engine run slow. We bled the system (easy) and proceeded with remedies. We changed the inadequate fuel pump to stock, and upgraded the fuel lines. There have been no stalls in the past four months, since the upgrades. And just to be safe we are in the process of changing the fittings on the vacuum side and a few on the pump manifold. This will make a brand new fuel delivery system. The oven also needs a new thermostat. She could use some anti-slip paint on the back deck. The Fuel tanks are Spotless and clean. Cleaned and polished 2 years ago. The only other thing we can see as future fix is either buffing the plexiglass windows or eventually changing them. Those are the only things we can think of that potential challenges. She runs great now. But there are no guarantees.

She has no leaks, no dripping portholes, no squishy decking. The best part of her is the galley, the dining setup and the amazing 360 degree view, full of light, in the cabin. Wow, she is an absolute joy to hang out in at anchor. Great for bringing friends along, especially on the cold days when the two cabin heaters really make comfort a reality. Lots and lots of storage, too. And fine stove. The water system and head work great. And are Not stinky.

As far as intangibles she is stately and always attracts positive, and affirming events an people.

Please contact us with questions and consider seeing her IF you are qualified with the whole amount of cash and sincerity in your intention. For our part we will be completely straight forward and honest. But we won't fool around with people who scammers or fakers. Stella deserves a loving family or individual to take her on adventures (Like the many times she has been to Alaska Ports). Let us know if you are interested. This price is a bargain, when one considers that approximately $70,000, including the original price of 30K, has been invested in her.

Take Care and Thank You.